

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Mountain Man teams up with Karl Weber Racing for Weber's ARCA debut

Nashville, Tennessee – August 20, 2013 – Mountain Man, from A&E's number one hit show Duck Dynasty, will be sponsoring the #3 Chevy Impala SS piloted by 16 year old Karl Weber, aka the Flying Farmer, with crew chief Tony Blanchard at the Herr's Live Life with Flavor 200 at Madison International Speedway in Wisconsin this upcoming weekend. This will be Karl's first ARCA series race. Although only 16, Karl has a long racing resume with karting championships, along with racing in the PASS Series and ARCA CRA Super Series, and now stepping into the ARCA Series Presented by Menards.

Mountain Man states, "This will be a terrific opportunity to promote the launch of my new website, mountainmansworld.com, and the launch of Karl's new career in the ARCA series. The only advice I can give Karl is to let 'er rip tater chip! I want to thank Jeff Witherell and his staff at WRPM International for making this all possible. Emmm-hmm."

Karl, his father Randy, and the Weber family have been in the farming business for over 153 years and currently farm over 11,000 acres. The Flying Farmer was a nickname given to Karl Weber when he raced karts across North America. "I'm very excited for my ARCA series debut in Madison this weekend. As a fan of Duck Dynasty, I want to thank Mountain Man for giving me the opportunity to promote his new website in the ARCA series, and I am looking forward to doing well in this weekend's race." said Karl. "It's going to be a great experience."
